BRAINERD FLYER'S LIFE IN BALANCE

Capt. Fred Place, Formerly of Brainerd Dispatch Force, Victim of Freak Mishap

HIS MACHINE FELL 150 FEET

Accident Occurred When He Attempted to Take Off from Kelly Field, In Texas

Unconscious since Tuesday afternoon when his airplane plunged 150 feet at Kelly field, Texas, Capt. Fred Place of Brainerd, last night was reported to be in a critical condition with little hope held for his recovery. Earlier in the day, Mrs. Louis Zurofsky, 1124 East Sixth street, Duluth, his sister-in-law, received a wire from Mrs. Place indicating that while Captain Place's injuries were grave, physicians entertained hopes for his life.

Captain Place, who has been chief instructor of aerial photography at the flying field near San Antonio for the last three months, was the victim of one of the most unusual mishaps in the annals of aviators, according to veteran army flyers.

The accident occurred when Captain Place was attempting to take off from the field in a Dehaviland plane. After a height of 150 feet had been gained, the plane encountered a strong current of air from the propeller of another aircraft, causing Place's machine to fall out of control.

Before he could recover control of the plane, it tilted to one side, falling swiftly to the ground. The right wing struck the ground first with a terrific crash. Lieut. S. A. Hunt, who occupied the rear cockpit, miraculously escaped with slight bruises.

Captain Place was removed to the army hospital at Fort Sam Houston. He was in the aerial photography service overseas during the war. His mother lives at Merrifield near Brainerd.

Capt. Place is a most efficient printer and some years ago worked on the Brainerd Dispatch force. He took up photography and became an expert newspaper photographer, working for Minneapolis papers and later for Hearst's and for moving picture news events. He was an instructor of aerial photography during the war and following the great conflict. Capt. Place visited Brainerd a few years ago and all the high honors paid him did not dim the recollection of his boyhood friends in Brainerd and nearby countryside.

HENRY WATTERSON, FEARLESS EDITOR, GOES TO REWARD

"GRAND OLD MAN OF AMERICAN JOURNALISM" DIED TODAY AT JACKSONVILLE, FLA.

FOR YEARS HE MADE LOUISVILLE COURIER-JOURNAL NATIONAL INSTITUTION.

Jacksonville, Fla., Dec. 22.—Henry Watterson, noted editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal, died in a hotel here at 6:50 a. m. today.

Watterson came here to spend the winter because of failing health. Bronchial trouble was the direct cause of Watterson's death. His wife, his son Henry L. Watterson, Jr., and his daughter Mrs. Wilson Miller, were at his bedside when the end came.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been completed, but it is thought probable the body will be removed to his home in Jefferson, Kentucky, for burial.

Henry Watterson was the "grand old man of American journalism."

He would have been eighty-two years old February 16th. He was a pioneer in the newspaper field of the south middle west, and by the bitter invective style of his editorials swayed the entire United States. It was he who first created the phrase:

"To hell with the Hapsburgs and the Hohennollerns," as the United States hovered on the brink of war.

For the last few years he has taken no active part in journalism. He retired when the Louisville Courier's ownership passed from his hands to Robert Worth Bingham, its present owner.

After his retirement from active editorial writing, he composed memoirs of his life in two brilliant volumes called "Looking Backward."

In this series he told the entire story of his life. He was extremely proud of the fact that he was the son of a diplomat. His father was a congressman from Tennessee, and he early became identified in national life.

John Quincy Adams used to walk along the streets of Washington with his arm on Watterson's shoulder while the boy read to him. He also waited on Andrew Jackson. He was an amateur page in Congress, and was at John Quincy's Adams' side when he fell.

Watterson began his paper career as a reporter on the Washington States. Then came the Civil war. He enlisted—though only a boy in his teens—and served as an aid to General Forest and Polk.

After the war he began a "traveling newspaper." He headed the Chattanooga Rebel, a paper printed in a wagon. Later he went to Louisville, Kentucky, where he stayed for half a century to make newspaper history. In 1868, he merged the Journal. Then he took up the editorial to strike for solidifying of the North and South. With brilliant words, he took the applause of the nation, and his editorials were re-printed in journals throughout the country.

Then the world came to know him as old "Marse Henry." He was a great advocate of journalistic enthusiasm. He repeated often the old phrase: "Journalism is the art of knowing where hell is going to break loose next and having a man there to cover it."

Official Washington Mourns Death.

Washington, DDec. 22.—News of Henry Watterson's death cast a pall of sorrow over officials at Washington and the Arms conference.

President Harding was notified of his death early today by the United Press and expressed deep regret. He is preparing a message of sympathy to the family.

Secretary Hughes was deeply moved when informed of the death.

Notice was also sent to former President Wilson.

BRIAND HARVEY CONFER ON SUB MARINE MATTER

ANOTHER CONFERENCE IS NECESSARY—FRANCE'S NAVAL RATIO DISCUSSED.

(By United Press.)

London, Dec. 22.—Premier Briand forwarded a note to Ambassador Harvey today which necessitates that the two confer again before Briand leaves for home, it was learned from reliable sources.

It was presumed the contents of the document related to France's attitude on submarines and light naval craft.

The information that the note was sent was given out just before Briand met Lloyd George at 11:40 a. m., for their third conference on the reparations situation, and it was considered likely that France's attitude on naval ratios would also be discussed.

An anti-treaty bloc was being formed today among Republican senators. At the same time telegrams by the hundred were coming to senators demanding that they oppose any pact that calls for American guarantees to Japan for preservation of territorial integrity or anything else.

Asks Briand to Reconsider.

Special dispatches from London today reported that Ambassador George Harvey has presented Premier Briand with a note from Secretary Charles Evans Hughes, asking Briand to reconsider his attitude toward submarines and light naval craft.

Briand, it was said, is to talk the matter over with Lloyd George before replying.

Speedy Agreement Hoped For.

Washington, DDec. 22.—It was also revealed that America had opposed abolition of poison gas, contending that its use was humane, or more so at least, than the use of high explosive shells.

The submarine ruling cannot be accomplished immediately because of its affecting other than the five naval powers of the conference, and must be considered and acted upon by other nations.

In the meanwhile, hopes for speedy settlement of naval limitation questions by France agreeing to a backing down to some extent from her demand for a disproportionate amount of light cruisers, submarines and auxiliary craft were brighter when it was learned the French delegation had received another cablegram from Premier Briand.

W. D. MacLeith, architect and engineer of St. Paul, superintendent of construction of Northwestern hospital's new unit, will leave for St. Paul Friday noon, where he will enjoy the holiday season with his family until January 5, when he will return to Brainerd.

He reports building at the Northwestern hospital progressing nicely, but because of lack of some materials and delays in shipments the structure is a trifle behind in its structural program. Every effort is being made to complete the structure as rapidly as possible.

The hospital management is glad at any time to have visitors inspect the building and to see the new methods of construction and of installation of equipment, which will tend to make it one of the most advanced institutions outside of the Twin Cities in the northwest.

The Otis elevator of the push button type with steel guides and special steel cab has full magnetic control and overhead machines. It is controlled entirely by push buttons on various floors and is absolutely fool proof. An elevator operator is not needed to run this elevator. The first part of this installation begins January 15.

The rough plumbing is all in. Temporary radiation will be hooked on Friday for drying out the building, preparatory to plastering, which will begin early in January. The electric wiring is all installed with the exception of the signal system.

In elevator, plumbing, heating, electric wiring, etc., all is built and installed in accordance with the most stringent building regulations as required by St. Paul and Minneapolis.

Japs Blame China

W. D. MacLeith, Architect and Engineer of St. Paul, is Superintendent of Construction

NEW OTIS ELEVATOR IS ADDED Elevator, Plumbing, Heating, Electric Wiring According to Twin Cities Building Regulations

W. D. MacLeith, architect and engineer of St. Paul, superintendent of construction of Northwestern hospital's new unit, will leave for St. Paul Friday noon, where he will enjoy the holiday season with his family until January 5, when he will return to Brainerd.

He reports building at the Northwestern hospital progressing nicely, but because of lack of some materials and delays in shipments the structure is a trifle behind in its structural program. Every effort is being made to complete the structure as rapidly as possible.

The hospital management is glad at any time to have visitors inspect the building and to see the new methods of construction and of installation of equipment, which will tend to make it one of the most advanced institutions outside of the Twin Cities in the northwest.

The Otis elevator of the push button type with steel guides and special steel cab has full magnetic control and overhead machines. It is controlled entirely by push buttons on various floors and is absolutely fool proof. An elevator operator is not needed to run this elevator. The first part of this installation began January 15.

The rough plumbing is all in. Temporary radiation will be hooked on Friday for drying out the building, preparatory to plastering, which will begin early in January. The electric wiring is all installed with the exception of the signal system.

In elevator, plumbing, heating, electric wiring, etc., all is built and installed in accordance with the most stringent building regulations as required by St. Paul and Minneapolis.

Erect Shoe Factory

Williston, Dec. 22.—A one hundred thousand dollar capital concern is considering the erection of a factory for shoes and other leather products. Promoters believe they can thus provide a market for the hides and furnish the community with these finished products at a more reasonable price than they now pay.

The new company will absorb a tannery which has been in operation here with success for some years. Running water and native coal will make Williston an ideal location for the new plant, it is thought.

Erect Starch Factory

Grand Forks, Dec. 22.—The importance which the potato played this year on Red River Valley farms has given further impetus to the plans here for the erection of a starch factory with big warehouses in connection. This will be in operation, it is said, to care for the 1922 crop. The starch factory can utilize all kinds, sizes and shapes of potatoes and even freezing will not harm them for this purpose.

BRAINERD BOYS IN SPORT WORLD

Les Bush, premier pitcher of the Red Sox is to go to the Yankees. "Bullet Joe" is a native son of Brainerd and unlike some other Brainerd boys who went to high company, never forgets to put in a boost for his home town.

Bush never played in an Association team. In one season he went from Brainerd to Missoula to Connie Mack's Athletics, playing in all three teams within a season and that's some record.

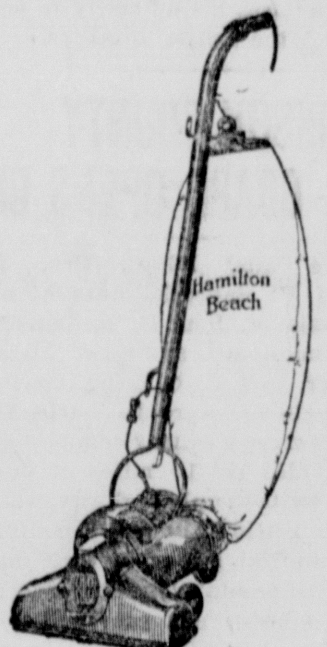

Bush first came into prominence by his great work with the Philadelphia Americans in 1913, one of Connie Mack's winning years. Bush pitched one game against the Giants in the world series, defeating them 8 to 2.

He was considered a has-been three years ago when his strength gave out. Not discouraged, he spent two years working on a delivery he calls the "fork ball" because of the manner in which he holds the pellet when pitching. It resembles the spitter in its break and was so effective the past year that Bush was rated one of the best hurlers in the league and the mainstay of the Red Sox staff.

The management of the New York American league team has announced that the club has traded pitchers William Piercy, Rip Collins and Jack Quinn and Shortstop Roger Peckinpaugh to the Boston Americans in exchange for Pitchers Joe Bush and Sam Jones and Shortstop Everett Scott.

No cash consideration was involved.

In the deal, it was said by Col. Jacob Ruppert, part owner of the Yankees.

The Manistique, Michigan, "Pioneer Tribune" has a sport article about Buck Jackson, a Brainerd boy prominent in the squared circle, well known to the papermakers of Brainerd. He formerly lived in Northeast Brainerd, Clifford or "Buck" as he is known was hurt in an accident last June and did not resume boxing until he was entirely recovered. The way he handled the Soo boxer shows he has not lost his punch.

The Pioneer Tribune says:
"Buck" Jackson, employee at the Pulp and Paper company and whom his admirers call the "idol of Manistique," journeyed to the Soo last week and knocked out Private Du Ball in the third round of the six round go scheduled.

Du Ball was very fast and put up a snappy fight while it lasted but Jackson's friends claim that he has improved his right cross to the point where he is a dangerous opponent. Du Ball was knocked down three times in the third round. One to the count of four, another time to the count of seven while the knockout blow carried him long past the count of ten.

Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. In a statement by the Religious Educational Committee this report is given:

The natal day of Our Lord will be commemorated by our Sunday school at the church Friday afternoon and evening.

All over the land, families will meet in their respective homes to celebrate this the greatest day in the history of the Christian world. With the same spirit, elaborate preparations are being made for our Sunday school to also celebrate this day on the family style.

PART I

Time—Friday 4:30 to 6:30 p. m.

The officers and teachers of the Children's division will give the lit-well taken care of. Miss Grondin will do the same with the 2nd Beginners. Miss Olson knows what is good for her boys and girls in the 1st

Wilson is never wanting for the good of her boys and girls in the 2nd Primary. While Mrs. Cain in her 3rd Primary is always interested in her boys and girls. The Junior boys and

RETAILERS ARE CONCERNED

The retail trade is beginning to realize that if the so-called "American valuation plan" is defeated in Congress the big mail order houses and department stores will flood the local trade territory of small retailers with cheaply made imported goods.

The average retailer in the small town has a hard enough row to hoe, as it is, competing with the mail order bureaus of department stores and big mail order houses. If these metropolitan competitors are now permitted to import shiploads of cheaply-made goods and get them through the customs house on the basis of their foreign valuation, the small retailer will find himself driven to the wall. It is considered very significant that during the past four months there have been more failures in the United States among small retailers of all kinds than in any previous four months for many years, while during the same period the large department stores and mail order houses report a steadily increasing business.

REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION

Political experts who are closely watching the game appear to be confident that every member of the present Republican state administration, with perhaps one exception, will be renominated at the state convention in March. The one exception is Herman Mueller, clerk of the supreme court, who is handicapped by a previous Non-partisan League endorsement. Charles F. Ebel of Rice county and E. R. Flygare of Martin county are spoken of for Mueller's place, and there are other possible candidates. Frank Kellogg is considered perfectly safe for another term as United States Senator, though Judge Hallam will make an active campaign for the nomination. These matters will all be practically settled by the voters before the convention meets, and the proceedings promise to be harmonious throughout. This is a pleasing prospect.

PUNISH THE SLACKERS

Maj. Gen. Harris, Adjutant General of the army, in his annual report urgently recommends the punishment of "slackers" who evaded the draft during the World war, which he thinks should be done in order to prevent wholesale evasion of the draft in case of another war.

Gen. Harris says that if the more than 100,000 men who refused to serve in the last war are allowed to escape it will put a premium on desertion in the future. This, he believes, may endanger the nation in an emergency. It is a matter of simple justice to the boys who loyally served their government, too, that the "slackers" should be rounded up and duly punished, and it is time that the government officials were getting busy.

SECRETARY WALLACE OPTIMISTIC

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, in his first annual report, told the President that "there seems to be good reasons for believing that the worst is over and that we may reasonably hope for gradual improvement from now on." He adds that "a clear recognition of the conditions as they exist should help us to realize this hope." In large part the troubles of the farmer today are due to world-wide conditions and the inevitable result of the World war, Mr. Wallace says, adding that it is not to be expected that by some "miraculous transformation" the period of adversity may be turned over night into a period of prosperity.

EUROPEAN CONDITIONS IMPROVING

Secretary Hoover is quite optimistic over the improving conditions in Europe. In a review of international trade conditions, he declared that the economic recovery of Europe, while necessarily slow and difficult, is making substantial progress. The situation "contains great dangers," he said, but it is "not at all as gloomy as some statements would make it appear." A survey of European conditions, he thinks, "will show that the danger of Bolshevism is past," partly through improved standards of life and partly "through the salutary lesson to Russia."

An observant editor down in Missouri declares that "if the Wilson administration hadn't let a billion get away on its airplane program, a billion or two on its shipping program, another billion on its railroad management, and various hundreds of millions in other schemes of waste and loot, we would not now be so burdened by taxes, and the coin for the soldiers' bonus could be easily found."

It is said that A. M. Clelland, the genial general passenger traffic manager of the Northern Pacific for the past twenty years, will retire from railroad work Jan. 1 and go to California. Mr. Clelland is a popular official and will be missed in the Northwest railroad circles, in which he has long been one of the leading figures.

The state land department announces that "state lands for settlement and not for speculation" will be its policy hereafter, which is a good slogan. Dates for sixty-three land sales to be conducted by the State Auditor have been fixed for 1922.

It is estimated that the elimination of the war tax on express shipments, effective Jan. 1, will result in savings of $1,500,000 a month for users of this service.

RETAILERS ARE CONCERNED

The retail trade is beginning to realize that if the so-called "American valuation plan" is defeated in Congress the big mail order houses and department stores will flood the local trade territory of small retailers with cheaply made imported goods.

The average retailer in the small town has a hard enough row to hoe, as it is, competing with the mail order bureaus of department stores and big mail order houses. If these metropolitan competitors are now permitted to import shiploads of cheaply-made goods and get them through the customs house on the basis of their foreign valuation, the small retailer will find himself driven to the wall. It is considered very significant that during the past four months there have been more failures in the United States among small retailers of all kinds than in any previous four months for many years, while during the same period the large department stores and mail order houses report a steadily increasing business.

REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION

Political experts who are closely watching the game appear to be confident that every member of the present Republican state administration, with perhaps one exception, will be re-nominated at the state convention in March. The one exception is Herman Mueller, clerk of the supreme court, who is handicapped by a previous Non-partisan League endorsement. Charles F. Ebel of Rice county and E. R. Flygare of Martin county are spoken of for Mueller's place, and there are other possible candidates. Frank Kellogg is considered perfectly safe for another term as United States Senator, though Judge Hallam will make an active campaign for the nomination. These matters will all be practically settled by the voters before the convention meets, and the proceedings promise to be harmonious throughout. This is a pleasing prospect.

PUNISH THE SLACKERS

Maj. Gen. Harris, Adjutant General of the army, in his annual report urgently recommends the punishment of "slackers" who evaded the draft during the World war, which he thinks should be done in order to prevent wholesale evasion of the draft in case of another war.

Gen. Harris says that if the more than 100,000 men who refused to serve in the last war are allowed to escape it will put a premium on desertion in the future. This, he believes, may endanger the nation in an emergency. It is a matter of simple justice to the boys who loyally served their government, too, that the "slackers" should be rounded up and duly punished, and it is time that the government officials were getting busy.

SECRETARY WALLACE OPTIMISTIC

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, in his first annual report, told the President that "there seems to be good reasons for believing that the worst is over and that we may reasonably hope for gradual improvement from now on." He adds that "a clear recognition of the conditions as they exist should help us to realize this hope." In large part the troubles of the farmer today are due to world-wide conditions and the inevitable result of the World war, Mr. Wallace says, adding that it is not to be expected that by some "miraculous transformation" the period of adversity may be turned over night into a period of prosperity.

EUROPEAN CONDITIONS IMPROVING

Secretary Hoover is quite optimistic over the improving conditions in Europe. In a review of international trade conditions, he declared that the economic recovery of Europe, while necessarily slow and difficult, is making substantial progress. The situation "contains great dangers," he said, but it is "not at all as gloomy as some statements would make it appear." A survey of European conditions, he thinks, "will show that the danger of Bolshevism is past," partly through improved standards of life and partly "through the salutary lesson to Russia."

An observant editor down in Missouri declares that "if the Wilson administration hadn't let a billion get away on its airplane program, a billion or two on its shipping program, another billion on its railroad management, and various hundreds of millions in other schemes of waste and fool, we would not now be so burdened by taxes, and the coin for the soldiers' bonus could be easily found."

It is said that A. M. Clelland, the genial general passenger traffic manager of the Northern Pacific for the past twenty years, will retire from railroad work Jan. 1 and go to California. Mr. Clelland is a popular official and will be missed in the Northwest railroad circles, in which he has long been one of the leading figures.

The state land department announces that "state lands for settlement and not for speculation" will be its policy hereafter, which is a good slogan. Dates for sixty-three land sales to be conducted by the State Auditor have been fixed for 1922.

It is estimated that the elimination of the war tax on express shipments, effective Jan. 1, will result in savings of $1,500,000 a month for users of this service.

ELKS ARRANGE FOR CHRISTMAS PARTY

Two Matinee Performances 9:30 and 10:30 A. M. at New Park Theatre Saturday Free

FOR CHILDREN UNDER 14 YEARS

Long List of Brainerd Merchants Donate Candy, Apples and Nuts for the Little Ones

The Elks of Brainerd Lodge No. 615 backed by public spirited citizens will on Saturday, December 24 stage their annual Christmas party for the children of the city and vicinity. Spread the news kiddies, it's all free.

The New Park theatre has donated the films and the theatre and will put on a splendid show. It will all be free for children under 14 years. The theatre is to be commended for the interest shown in this party.

The first show will be 9:30 Saturday morning and the second at 10:30 in the morning. The Elks ask for a full house at the early hour and any overflow will be warmly housed until the second show starts, said Clyde E. Parker, chairman of the Elks house and social committee.

A two reel comedy "Four Times Foiled" and a two reel western, "Battle of Wits" will be shown. Two beautifully decorated and illuminated Christmas trees will be on the stage and a lovely tree will be in the lobby. A real Santa Claus will be there, there.

A long list of public spirited citizens, whose names will be published Friday, has assisted the Elks with donations. Each child will get its quota of apples, candy and nuts.

The Elks ladies aid will meet under the direction of Clyde E. Parker Friday night at 10 o'clock at the New Park theatre to sack candy and nuts for 1600 kiddies, this being the attendance registered at last year's party.

At New Lyceum Dec. 25 to 31—Free Show for "Kiddies" on December 30 and 31

The New Lyceum is celebrating its first birthday on Xmas day Dec. 25, this being the date it opened its doors to the public just a year ago.

The week of Dec. 25 will be known as "Anniversary Week" and Manager Hiller has prepared an elaborate picture program for each day of the week. Pictures to be shown are Tom Mix in a "Rough Diamond" on Monday and Tuesday. Mary Pickford in "Though the Back Door" on Wednesday and Thursday, and Wm. S. Hart in a Paramount Western picture on Friday and Saturday.

Free Show for the Kiddies

Children will be given first consideration at these shows, and parents can rest assured that the kiddies will be taken care of.

Gold Melted into Bars Worth $22,000 Each—Nome is Large Fur Market, Tourist Center

J. A. Bachelder, of Nome, Alaska, who was called to Brainerd early in December on account of his wife's sickness, is very glad to report that she has almost entirely recovered and will leave St. Joseph's hospital on Saturday.

Mr. Bachelder has been engaged in the banking business at Nome since 1907, having large interests in the Miners & Merchants bank. The big rush, said he, was in 1900. The third beach line was struck in the fall of 1904. The latter proved a bigger discovery than the original.

Nome had at its height over 10,000 people. The population has varied in winter time decreasing because many take the boat for the outside and return in the spring.

In winter the temperature sometimes falls to below zero.

Had Charge of the Program, Report Made by Oscar Peterson, Its Chairman

The annual meeting of the Timothy-Allen Farm Bureau Unit was held at the Swanburg school house on Saturday, December 17.

The regular program was in charge of the marketing committee. The report was made by Oscar Peterson, chairman.

He suggested cooperation in buying as well as in selling as at least a partial solution of some of the marketing problems. In the discussion, the development of the tourist trade was brought out and suggested that it could be made a medium through which a large amount of produce could be sold to good advantage.

The marketing committee was instructed by the meeting to get in touch with some one having corn for sale in the hopes of securing a car load of corn.

FATHER PUNISHES HER

(By United Press)

Cheyenne, Wyo., Dec. 22.—Punished by her father for dipping her spoon into a jam pot at the dinner table, Alberta Woods, 15, killed herself with a rifle at Grass Creek, a camp near here.

Steamers for Nome anchor two miles out and the lighters convey passengers and freight to shore. The government railway to Fairbanks is about 800 miles from Nome.

The "Nome Nugget" is published weekly and daily bulletins are issued. The subscription price is $24 a year plus the bulletin service.

Assay Office

Mr. Bachelder's bank, having absorbed the other banks of Nome, is doing a large business. One of the big things carried on is the assay office, which melts the miners' gold as it is recovered from beach or creek or underground workings, and melts the same into gold bricks which average $22,000 each. Beach gold runs on the average $16 per ounce while creek gold averages as high as $18.50 per ounce. The various localities turn out gold which varies and an expert can quickly tell where the gold has been mined. The assay office is a great convenience to the miners. For many years gold in Dawson City, for instance, was accepted and then sent outside to be assayed, returns coming in slowly.

The Pioneer Mining Co. worked until 1909 with underground leases. At present the company, one of the largest producers of the district, has in operation a 60 mile ditch giving it a 300 foot fall of water for hydraulicing. Much low grade alluvial land remains to be worked over and which will be taken up as soon as business conditions approach the normal stage.

Fur Business

The fur business in Nome has developed immense proportions. It is a primary trading center for the richest pelts in fox, mink, costly ermine, lynx and other furs. From Siberia is brought the Russian sable and fox pelts.

Some of the natives wear furs which would cause an American belle to turn envious eyes and covet the beautifully matched garments.

Tourist Business

Summer tourists take the inland passage route to Skagway, Alaska, then railroad down the Yukon and White Pass road, travel by upper river steamer from White Horse to Dawson, take the lower river boats from Dawson to Nome and then return home by ocean boat and the outside passage. The trip is one of the most wonderful and challenges any European travel for change and grandeur of scenery.

Alaskan Reindeer

The government introduced reindeer in 1898, shipping 12,000 from Siberia to furnish food for the natives. The government established the rule that no white man be permitted to buy female deer from a native. Lapps were sent to teach natives the proper care of the animals. The Lapps received as pay a percentage of reindeer and soon accumulated herds of their own. Today over 200,000 reindeer browse on the tundra of Seward peninsula.

Elks Gavel

At the January 5th meeting of Brainerd lodge of Elks, Mr. Bachelder, who was No. 6 on the charter list of Brainerd lodge, will present the lodge with the most unique gavel any presiding officer ever had, the pleasure of wielding.

The head of the gavel is made from a whale's tooth, the latter species of whale being one which is rarely found in the Arctic ocean. To this polished tooth, worked to a wonderful finish by Esquimaux artisans, Mr. Bachelder has added a handle made from a walrus tooth. A silver casing bears the inscription "Presented to Brainerd Lodge No. 615", by J. A. Bachelder, Nome, Alaska".

The presentation of the gavel will be made the occasion of extending to Mr. Bachelder a regular Elk welcome and voicing the appreciation of the lodge for the unique gift.

AMUSEMENTS

Bill Fairbanks at Lyceum on Friday and Saturday

"Hearts of the West" with Wm. Fairbanks, is a story of men, in the full meaning of the word; of desires, of love, of fate, and of the struggle of our early pioneers and gold seekers, when the law of the land was the six-shooter, when the survival of the fittest meant the quickest on the draw.

"Hearts of the West" stands head and shoulders above the average western picture in that it contains not only daredevil stunts and fast action but it is a story with a real plot, full of romance and gripping scenes.

It is to be shown at the Lyceum on Friday and Saturday.

Helping to Make a Happy
Christmas

The Salvation Army and the Good Will Industry are undertaking to care for a large number of Christmas dinners and bits of Christmas cheer this season. When the Army, which always has a large number to whom it sends baskets at Christmas time, has completed its list and come to the end of its purse, the Goodwill people came into the breach and said they would take all the rest and see that a basket of substantial for the needy or bits of cheer for the kiddies as the case required would be supplied to each family. This proved to be quite a task but they set at it at once. Several other organizations came forward when they understood the situation and offered to help. The R. d. Cross added an amount to the Army baskets to provide some extras for the children. The Rotary club did the same for the Goodwill baskets. Some other organizations have expressed a desire to help. Sunday school classes are wanting to supply one or two baskets.

This article is published so that any person or organization desiring to help in this work may know how they can do so. They may communicate with the Salvation Army, or with

Rev. E. A. Cooke, superintendent of the Goodwill Industry. The Army baskets will be filled today and delivered Friday. The Goodwill baskets will be filled Friday afternoon in the library basement. The library basement will be open Thursday afternoon till six o'clock, and on Friday from 9 a. m. till 6 p. m. Gifts will be received till 2:00 p. m. Friday. Gifts should be placed in charge of Mrs. Jas. Shaw. Any thing coming in on Thursday designated for the Army baskets will be turned over to them.

"The Girl from Porcupine" at Lyceum
James Oliver Curwood's latest story of the north woods "The Girl from Porcupine" had its first showing at the Lyceum yesterday, and is to be repeated again tonight.

Faire Binney plays the role of the girl and is surrounded by an all star cast including "Lassie" the dog which made a big hit with the audience also.

The Curwood pictures have struck the high mark of popularity all over the country, and "The Girl from Porcupine" is one of the best seen to date.

Clever Youngster Seen in "The Fox"
Last time tonight at New Park theatre.

There is a real honest-to-goodness youngster in "The Fox," the super-western picture in which Harry Carey is starring at the New Park theatre. He is "Breezy" Eason, Jr., the wonder child of the screen, who has been featured in his own right in several productions.

"Breezy" is the son of Reaves Eason, well known Universal director, and has been given much latitude by his parents in the matter of choosing whether he will work or not. Given his preference in the matter he always has insisted on playing with Harry Carey. When Mr. Carey wrote "The Fox" he had the youngster in mind for an interesting part.

Little "Breezy" Eason does not "act"; he just lives the story in his childish mind and then does the obvious thing that a child would do, in enacting the role. The entire story is first told to the little boy, with, of course, special emphasis put on his part, after which he goes ahead with a sincerity and naturalness which stamps his work as of the very highest art of screen interpretation.

"Breezy" Eason adds much to the heart appeal of "The Fox."
Wanda Hawley a Hit at New Park
"Her First Elopement," which is the feature at the New Park theatre tomorrow can be classed as a thoroughly wholesome entertainment. Clean as a hound's tooth and sparkling with all the vim and vigor of the out-of-doors, it pleased a large and responsive audience. Wanda Hawley is the star of this new production, adapted from a clever magazine story by Alice Duer Miller, author of "The Charm School," "Come Out of the Kitchen" and many other popular stories.

As Christiana Elliott, Wanda Hawley has a role splendidly fitted to her vivaciously effective style of comedy. Poor Christine! She is wealthy—and apparently every one in the world wants to marry her. Life threatens to be rather a bore until a determined young man kidnaps her under the belief that she is a designing "vampire" who is after his kid brothers fortune. An easy and simple plot, it soon gets tangled into a mirthful hodge-podge of complications. And of course an excellent cast and direction aid much in making the play a laughing success. J. Patrick appears opposite Miss Hawley.

Wm. Kensler left on the morning train from Pine River Friday, enroute for the twin cities, on business. C. J. Lawrence dehorned cattle at the E. A. Jewell place on Monday.

The pupils of the Maple Grove school were royally entertained at the L. A. Hjem home Sunday in honor of the 10th birthday anniversary of Master Theodore Hjem. The youngsters were transported both ways, and report a jolly good time.

LADIES! SECRET TO
DARKEN GRAY HAIRBRING BACK ITS COLOR AND LUSTRE WITH GRANDMA'S SAGE TEA RECIPE

Common garden sage, brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant, and you appear years younger. Adv.

"The Girl from Porcupine" at Lyceum
James Oliver Curwood's latest story of the north woods "The Girl from Porcupine" had its first showing at the Lyceum yesterday, and is to be repeated again tonight.

Faire Binney plays the role of the girl and is surrounded by an all star cast including "Lassie" the dog which made a big hit with the audience also.

The Curwood pictures have struck the high mark of popularity all over the country, and "The Girl from Porcupine" is one of the best seen to date.

Clever Youngster Seen in "The Fox"

Last time tonight at New Park theatre.

There is a real honest-to-goodness youngster in "The Fox," the super-western picture in which Harry Carey is starring at the New Park theatre. He is "Breezy" Eason, Jr., the wonder child of the screen, who has been featured in his own right in several productions.

"Breezy" is the son of Reeves Eason, well known Universal director, and has been given much latitude by his parents in the matter of choosing whether he will work or not. Given his preference in the matter he always has insisted on playing with Harry Carey. When Mr. Carey wrote "The Fox" he had the youngster in mind for an interesting part.

Little "Breezy" Eason does not "act"; he just lives the story in his childish mind and then does the obvious thing that a child would do, in enacting the role. The entire story is first told to the little boy, with, of course, special emphasis put on his part, after which he goes ahead with a sincerity and naturalness which stamps his work as of the very highest art of screen interpretation.

"Breezy" Eason adds much to the heart appeal of "The Fox."

Wanda Hawley a Hit at New Park
"Her First Elopement," which is the feature at the New Park theatre tomorrow can be classed as a thoroughly wholesome entertainment. Clean as a hound's tooth and sparkling with all the vim and vigor of the out-of-doors, it pleased a large and responsive audience. Wanda Hawley is the star of this new production, adapted from a clever magazine story by Alice Duer Miller, author of "The Charm School," "Come Out of the Kitchen" and many other popular stories.

As Christiana Elliott, Wanda Hawley has a role splendidly fitted to her vivacious effective style of comedy. Poor Christine! She is wealthy—and apparently every one in the world wants to marry her. Life threatens to be rather a bore until a determined young man kidnaps her under the belief that she is a designing "vampire" who is after his kid brothers fortune. An easy and simple plot, it soon gets tangled into a mirthful hodge-podge of complications. And of course an excellent cast and direction aid much in making the play a laughing success. J. Patrick appears opposite Miss Hawley.

LADIES! SECRET TO DARKEN GRAY HAIR

BRING BACK ITS COLOR AND LUSTRE WITH GRANDMA'S SAGE TEA RECIPE

Common garden sage, brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of muss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant, and you appear years younger. Adv.
